Figure B-7. Current and historical spawning populations for the Upper Columbia River Steelhead

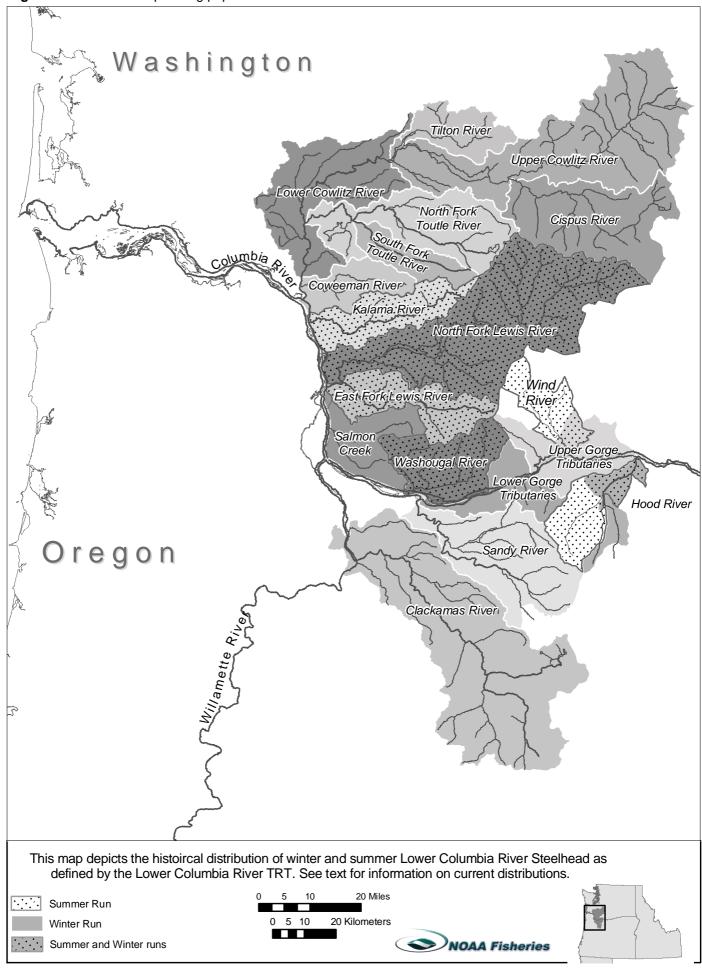

Figure B-8. Current and historical spawning populations of the Mid-Columbia River Steelhead Washington Naches River Touchet River Toppenish and Satus Creek Klickitat River Walla Walla Columbia Rive River Rock White Salmon Creek River Fifteenmile Creek Umatilla River (winters) Deschutes River - eastside Lower John Day River North Fork John Day River Deschutes River westside Middle Fork John Day Rivi Metolius Rive Upper John Day Crooked River South Fork John Day River Oregon This map depicts the current and historical distribution of the Mid-Columbia River Steelhead as defined by the Interior Columbia Basin TRT (Technical Recovery Team). 50 Miles Rivers 50 Kilometers Independent Populations Currently Unoccupied Areas NOAA Fisheries

Figure B-9. Historical spawning populations of the Upper Willamette River Steelhead

Figure B-10. Historical spawning populations of the Lower Columbia River Winter and Summer Steelhead.

ESU Maps B-11 November 19,2004